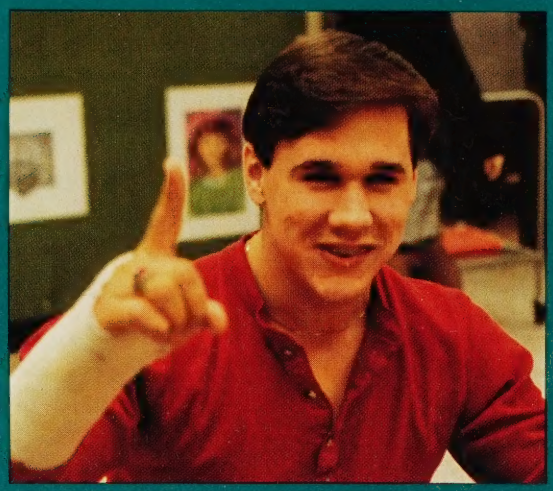
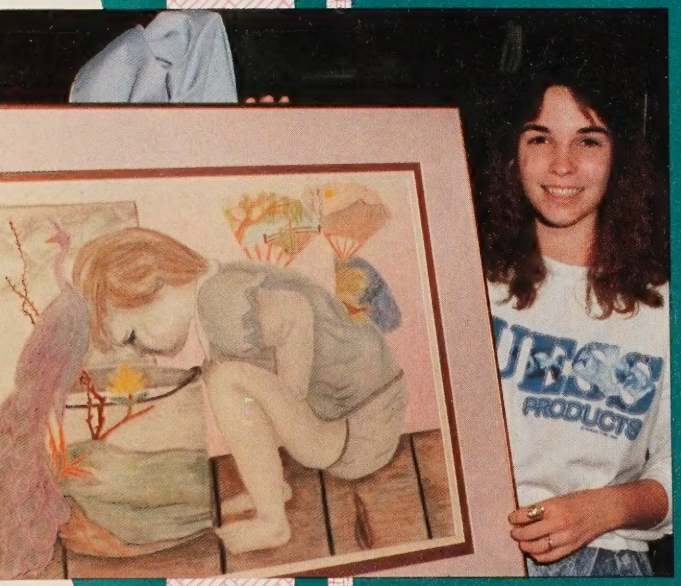
CHESTERFIELD
COUNTY PUBLIC
LIBRARY

Broken arm and all, Mark Waitkus keeps an obvious opinion about L.C.B. Wonder what that can be?



Boogeying tops the list of favorite pastimes. Dances after games were a hit with Bob Thibodeau and Ruth Lafoon.



Extracurricular though it may be, the band was asked to travel to Florida to play for the Hall of Fame bowl game. Football team standouts were sent to All District teams.

Oh, yes, proud, Jennifer Pope should be to have her work accepted to show in the Sovran Bank Art Show.

A Current Event

Fresh breezes of change whipped into Bird as well as into Washington for '89. Aubrey L. Lindsey, beginning another decade of service, announced the implementation of a peer advisory program. Students, counselors and teaches were elected to serve. Course offerings in the electives area were fattened with promise of more additions. A study of semester course offerings along with alternative daily scheduling was initiated in response to the uncontrolled growth in Chesterfield County. The $145 million bond issue was enthusiastically approved but the revenue is yet to be secured. Breaking with tradition, senior council members voted in navy graduation gowns.

Book in hand, Cari Hamm doesn't lose a minute of study time during the monthly fire drills. Academics are number one.

Bush may be beginning his era but at Bird, Aubrey Lindsey continues his era.

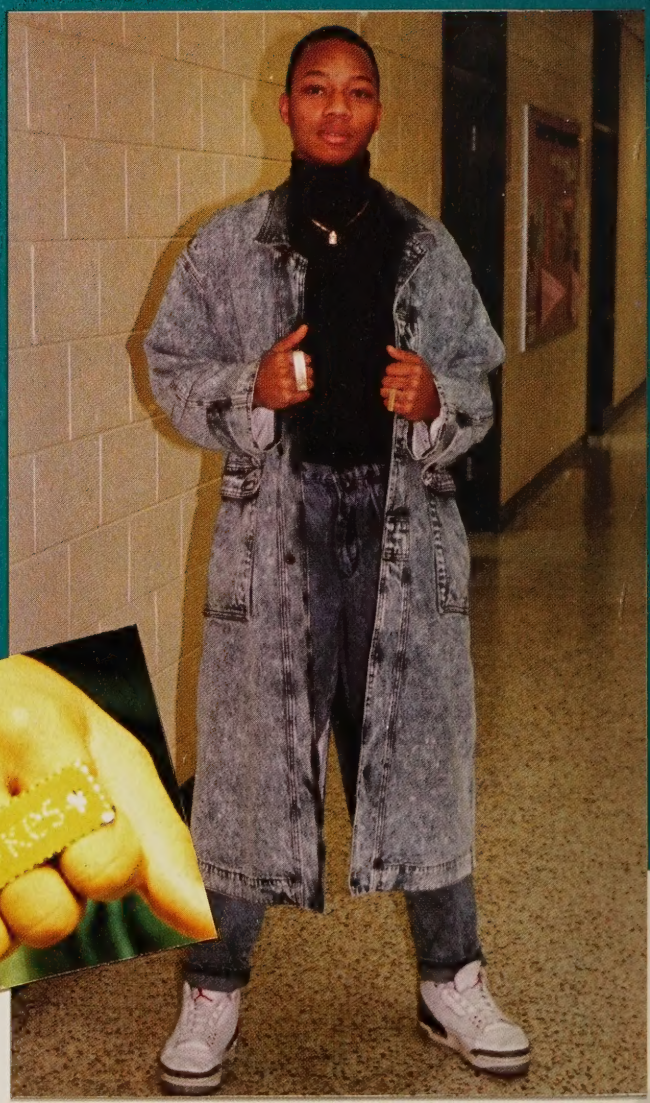
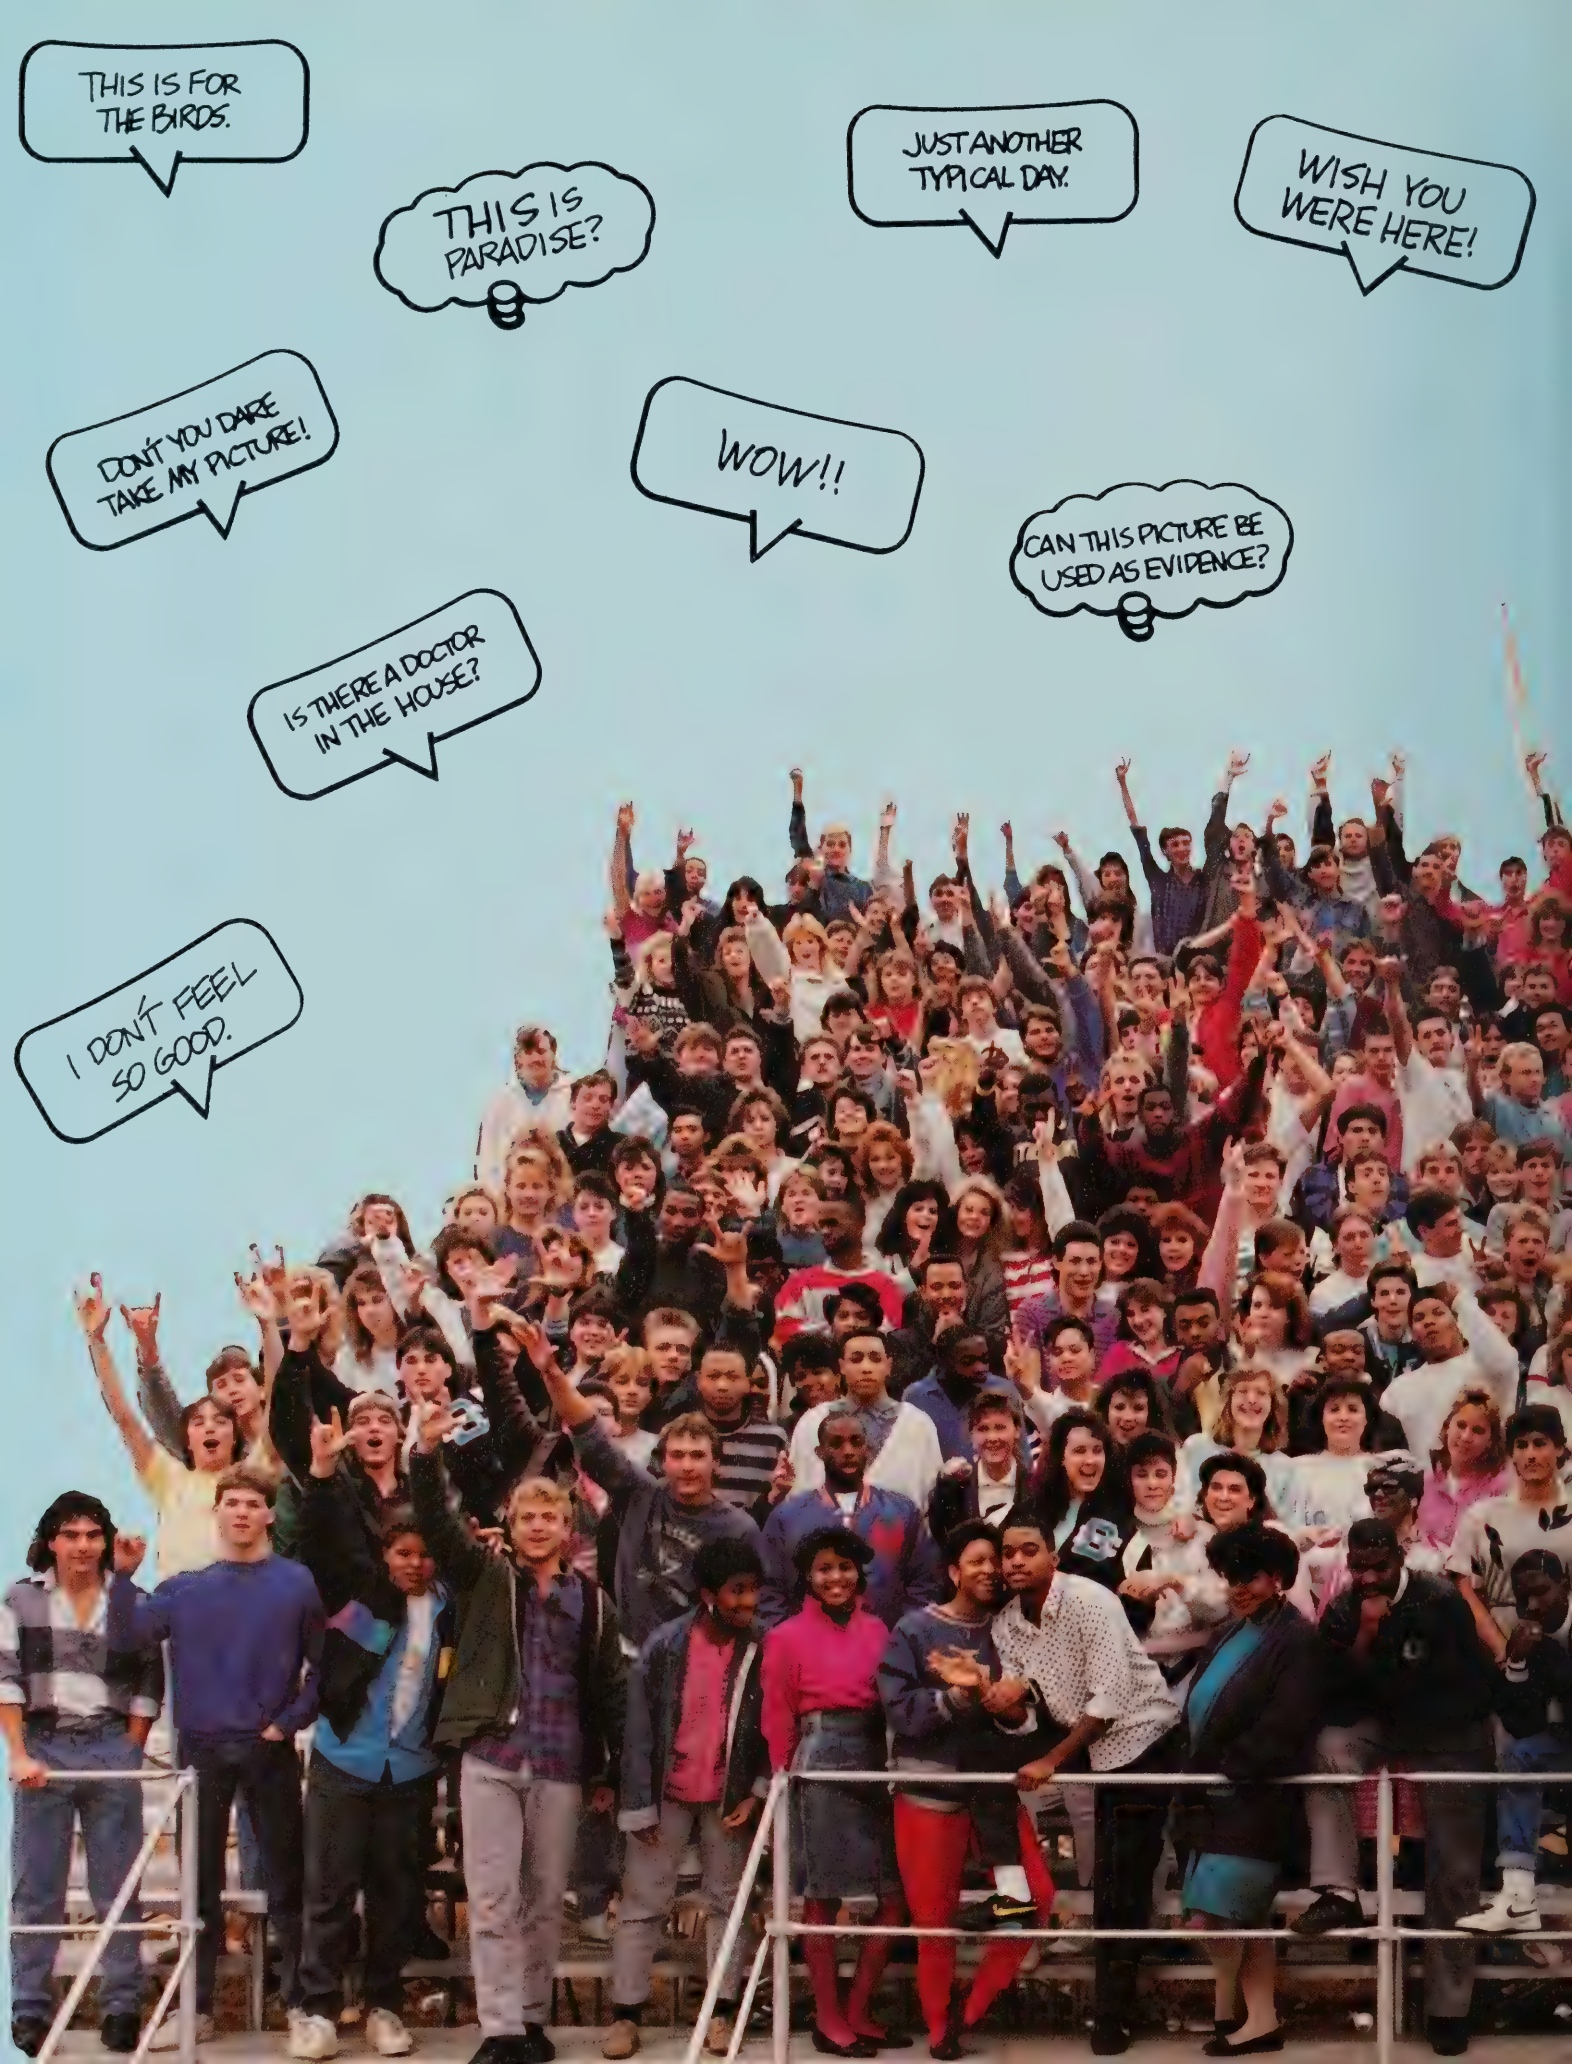
Who's In Style?

Designers do not rule Skyhawk fashion choices. Each person makes his decision. Cornell Gustus, E. G. Staton and Aaron McCray think the "box" hair style makes a fashion statement, while Jeff Snider prefers blue [illegible] earrings, [illegible] hair with [illegible] sweaters, jeans and the popular scarves adorn sisters, Tammy Johnson and Laurie Adkins. Pennsylvania imports, Kendra and Janelle Wadsworth and Jill and Michelle Dynia mirror Skyhawk fashion tastes. Add a variety of friendship bracelets, watches, unique rings to make that individual statement.

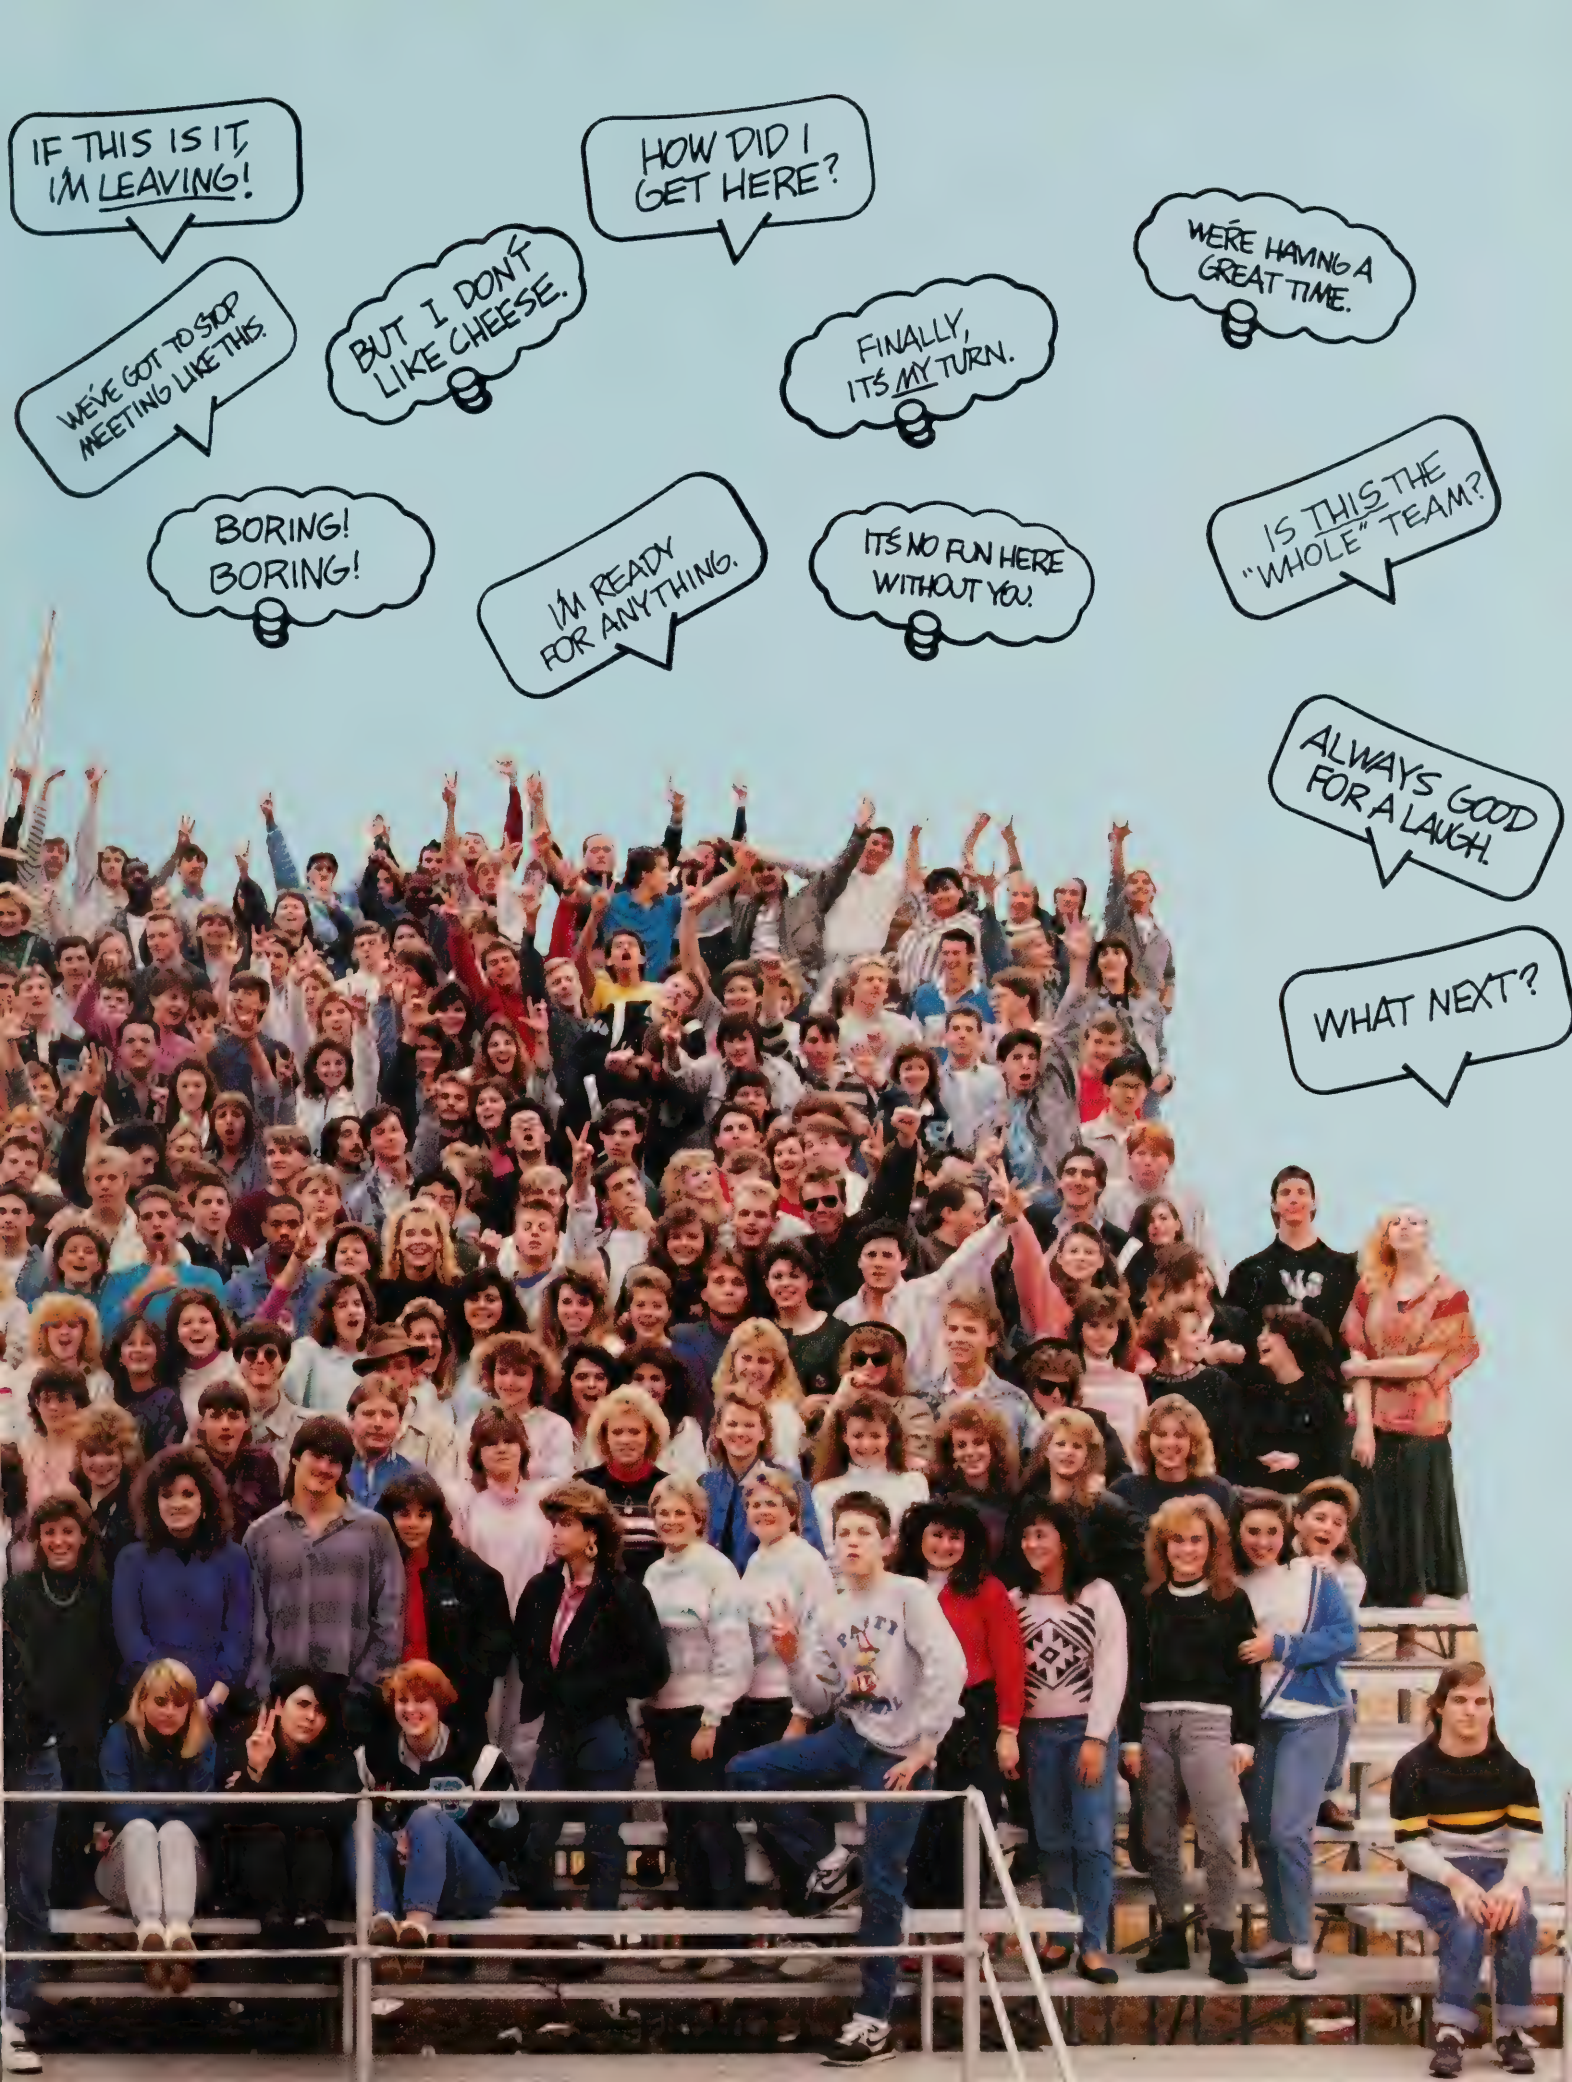


Ears get many holes in the name of fashion. Dawn Wood sports four. The more, the better so it seems.

Leather jackets, boots, skirts, scarves and all, Monique Clarke, Carisa Johnson and Candace Harris make fine fashion sense.



THIS IS FOR THE BIRDS.
THIS IS PARADISE?
JUST ANOTHER TYPICAL DAY.
WISH YOU WERE HERE!
DON'T YOU DARE TAKE MY PICTURE!
WOW!!
CAN THIS PICTURE BE USED AS EVIDENCE?
IS THERE A DOCTOR IN THE HOUSE?
I DON'T FEEL SO GOOD.



IF THIS IS IT, I'M LEAVING!
HOW DID I GET HERE?
WE'RE HAVING A GREAT TIME.
WE'VE GOT TO STOP MEETING LIKE THIS.
BUT I DON'T LIKE CHEESE.
FINALLY, IT'S MY TURN.
BORING! BORING!
I'M READY FOR ANYTHING.
IT'S NO FUN HERE WITHOUT YOU.
IS THIS THE "WHOLE" TEAM?
ALWAYS GOOD FOR A LAUGH.
WHAT NEXT?

What Happened?

Yet another way for Bird students to show spirit is to dress up for costume days. Spirit week balloons, pom pons, ribbons, mugs and more were sold to pep up the student body. As part of spirit week activities, first aid day brought out gruesome imaginations, while Pajama day saw some terminal cuteness complete with stuffed animals and fluffy slippers. Blue-White isn't just a day but some students do go a bit wilder to show that Skyhawk pride. To be distinctive, seniors dressed in black funeral garb. Foreign language week offered students a chance to dress in the traditional costumes of the country studied. Skyhawks are not at a loss to show their pride.

Hiding behind a blue and white mask, Ruth Lafoon makes the most of spirit week.

Could someone please call a doctor? David Patterson hobbles the hallways to show off his cuts and bruises on First Aid day.

Anticipating a purr-fect homecoming, Kim Johnson dons black in keeping with the spirit of the Day of the Dead.

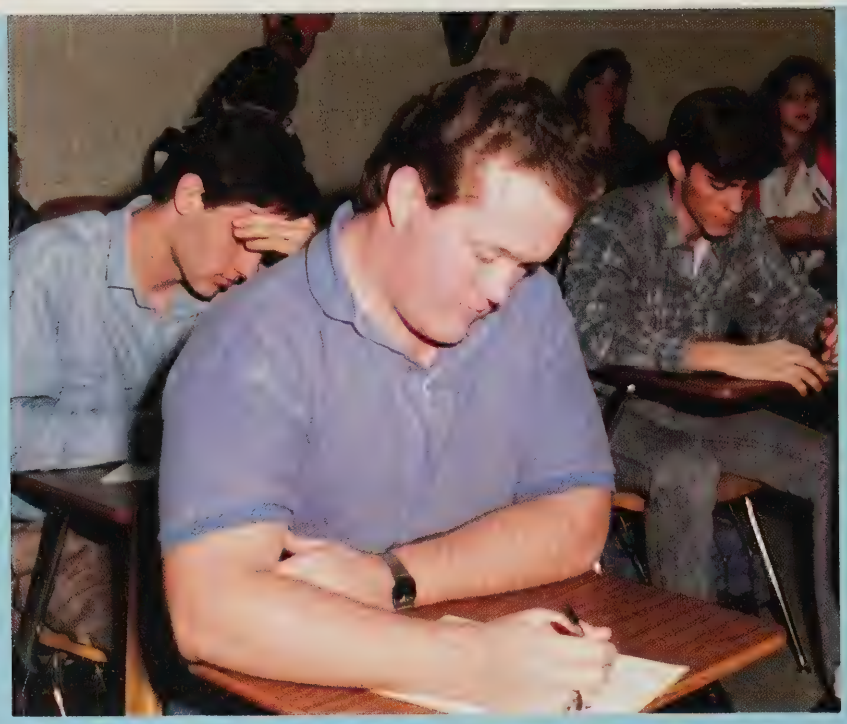
Cuddlesome and cute in jamies for p.j. day, Tracey Cesario, Ashley Lennick and Stacey Watkins are ready for a slumber party. Wesley Starnes and Scott Holloman watch.

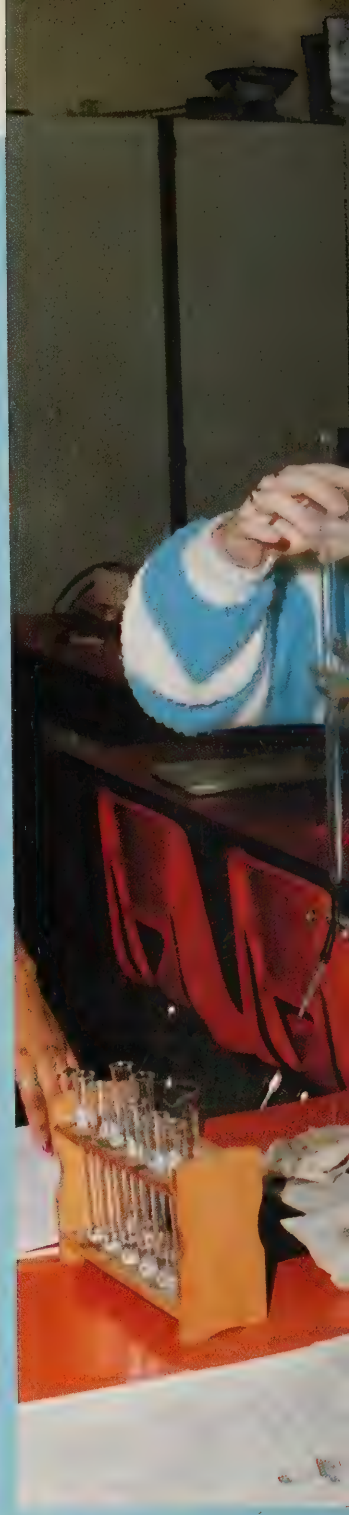
That's So Nice

"Señora Lowery, ''How's that fat cat?" Jon Woody casually asked just as he had nearly every other day. But, this day, the answer was "She died last night." A quick, "I'm sorry", was not the end of Jon's conversation. He went on a mission to find the perfect way to make Señora feel better. "Smidgin'" is the little guy's name and Jon's thoughtfulness goes down as a super nice thing. Bird students and teachers get cheers for thoughtful acts. Ron Paquette's first period class carried in over 150 food items for the Christmas food tree project sponsored by SCA. Daily attendance cards don't just walk to the clinic, Sean Baxter wheels these in daily. Coke machines get filled by the magic arms of Les Quarles. So many nice things go unnoticed but not unappreciated.

Serving up punch for the annual faculty party, Lara Carter shows why FHA is so popular.

Need a hug? or just a nice smile, Jim Copp and Andrew Lewis get both from Anthony Anderson.





While suffering through a government exam, Kevin Kirsh and Brian Jenkins manage to look confident.

Caught in research mode, Calvin Maddox, Terrell Oxendine and Lewis Turner know school is hard work.

Enjoying the recognition of their study skills, Laurie Oliver and Tamela Townsend show off the academic letter.

Why Work So Hard?

Bubble, bubble, watch the beaker as Anne Pate explores the secrets of chemistry. Skyhawks are serious about each undertaking. In the body shop, Bubba Rhoten, Roger Colby and Wade Beauchamp learn how to check all that activity under the hood. Though the grading scale was eased a little this year, students still dedicate their time to serious academics in order to earn an academic letter or entrance in that chosen college. Research papers send students into the library during all breaks in the day. Although the project doesn't look academic, Chad Mickelson enjoyed creating the rocket for Jerry McLaughlin's class. These students find the dedication far from boring since the learning is why we are here.

Sell Out CAPONE Bankrolls Scholarship

Neither snow, nor ice, nor a day off from school could stop the production of CAPONE by the Bird faculty March 9, 10. The original script by director, Julian Porter starred staff members turned actors to benefit the scholarship fund. Through song and dance the story of Al Capone and Chicago's gangster roaring twenties era unfolded. After a stay in the big house, Al Capone (Dutch Schrotenboer), returned to resume his businesses in the area. Naturally, rival gangs had stepped in and now the fight began. Capone rekindled his romance with Big Lil (MJ Shurlds) while the violence and political corruption peaked. Light hearted fun and excitement along with night club scenes, and revival numbers, filled the three act play. Most strikingly amusing number had to be the Frankie shoots Johnny pantomime with the undertaker (Ed Jones) bringing the house down with his strut across the stage after the body. Below, a very excited stage manager, Judy McFarland, Lynn Booth and director, Julian Porter hold the ticket sales record to record the SELL OUT performance. The community merchants who helped defray the costs of production get a round of applause also.

*E*ntering the halls for the first time . . . Janet Newcomb, Barr Bailey, Julia Brandis, Jill Dynia, Craig Burke, Toni Thomason.

New Seniors Fear Eating Alone

I just knew that I was going to die in a mass of hungry teenagers; not from being trampled, though the possibility was real, but rather from embarrassment. I had made it through my first five classes with my dignity intact; yet, how could I survive this, the word that struck many new students with the force of a brick wall — lunch! Who would I eat with, or would I have to sit alone? This was ridiculous. I was a senior, but I was acting like a freshman about to be sacrificed to the upperclassmen gods. "I hate being new as a senior," I griped to myself. The perfect senior year fizzled before my eyes.

Moving to a new high school can be a traumatic experience. Being uprooted during your senior year is worse. Many new seniors arrived at L.C. Bird this year with trepidation and fear. When Barr Bailey came to school that first day she felt like "a worm in a sea of caterpillars." New seniors feel that they have to make an outstanding first impression. "I felt like everyone was staring at me," recalls Jill Dynia. Though new seniors are scared and anxious, a new school provides an opportunity to re-establish oneself. "I liked being able to start over; to wipe the slate clean," explains Julia Brandis. And indeed L.C. Bird has provided these new Skyhawks a chance to soar.

Your name means "gift" and you have been a gift to us in every season. We are so proud of you and love you dearly.

Mom and Dad

Way to go Jennifer! We love you!!

Dad, Mom, and Julie

Jennifer Heard

Kimberly Johnson

Kimber, DeVinci did it with a brush, but you did it with a tissue. You have always brought joy to our hearts in your own way of creativeness. May the future be full of life and lovely memories and goals accomplished.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Julie

You have come a long way!

Love,
Mom, Daddy, Keith, Cheryl

Karen King

Casey Knight

It's a joy having you for a son! We pray your future will be filled with happiness and success.

All our love,
Mom and Dad

Pony tails, bobbysocks, boys, sportcars and four more years of college?? Live, love and laugh, daughter.

Mom, Dad, and Troy

JoAnne Krepp

Mark T. Lewis

Congratulations, Mark. You have brought so much happiness and enjoyment to our lives. God bless you.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Greg, and Brian

Our "baby" has grown up and we are proud of her! Congratulations upon graduation and good luck in college.

Mom and Dad

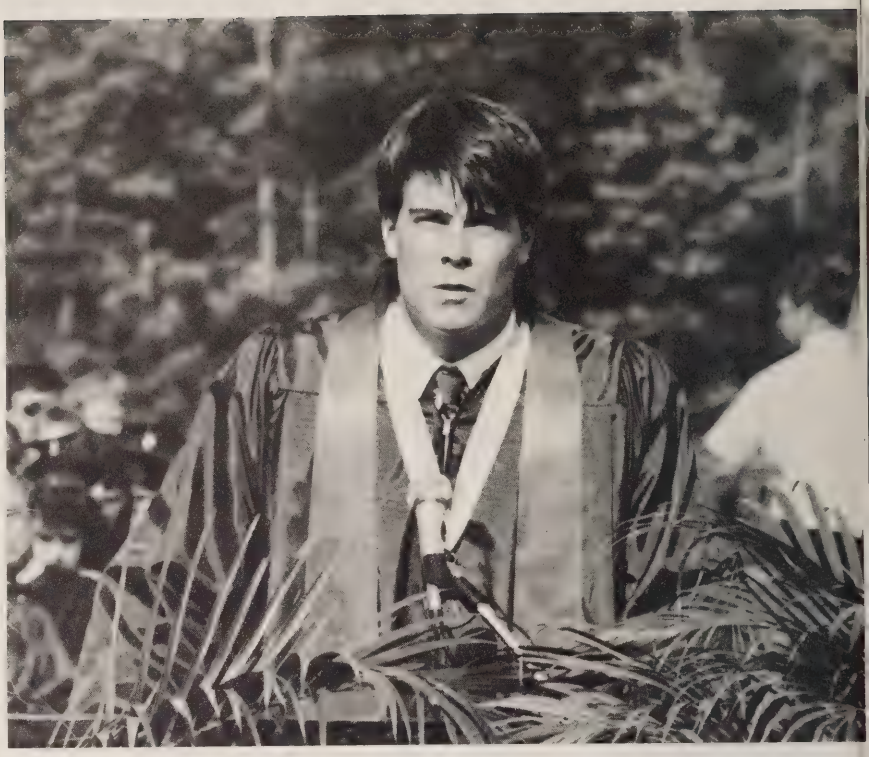
Speakers, Heather Brand, Kevin Fagan and Shannon Beasley offer humor and advice to graduates.



A Tropical Graduation

"Weather forecast for June 14 ... dangerous storms between the hours of 5 and 7 p.m." The tenth commencement ceremony began promptly at 5 in sweltering heat and 100% sunshine. Valedictorian, Kevin Fagan spoke of the unrest in China while reminding all to enjoy the democratic political lifestyle which our ancestors have secured. Salutatorian, Shannon Beasley invited everyone to keep or to acquire a sense of humor while Class President, Heather Brand demonstrated that hers was intact with her goodbye to parents and school in verse. Kevin Fagan was awarded the Mildred Phillips Spencer Scholarship. Crystal Jefferson won the Faculty Scholarship and Sophia Sullivan was named the Outstanding Senior. The first Jay Mallory Scholarship was awarded to Nolan Morris. Lottery tickets were given to Aubrey Lindsey as the tradition continues. The class donated a sign to be placed above the stadium entrance.

Diplomas in hand, Seniors gathered for "89 in Full Effect" aboard the USS Tropical Illusion at the YMCA for the first alcohol-free after party sponsored by PTSA with Chairpersons, Donna DeRyder and Betty Sawyer at the helm. $30,000 in tow, graduates played Las Vegas games, danced and swam until 3:30 a.m. when prizes were awarded. No one went home empty handed. Prizes were donated by the community to ensure the success of the maiden voyage. At 5 a.m., Aubrey Lindsey announced the winner of the $1,000 grand prize, Tracy Boutelle.

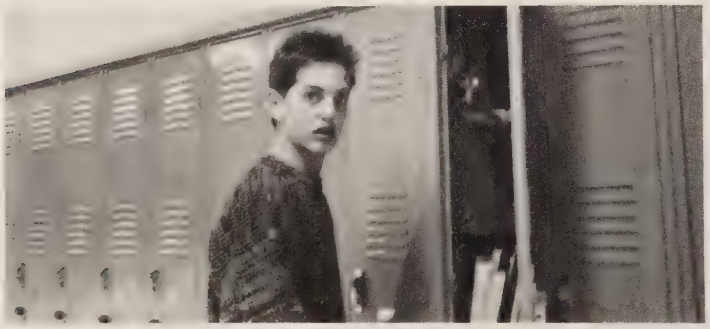
In Spanish class, Chris Aberle hates the fact that Bruce Goodman and Chris Johnson prove that guys do gossip . . . in every language.



Knowing that Judith McFarlane is going to ask where and when Poe was born, Kim Gray and Lisa Stanley spend a minute in review. Where's the rest of your locker, Brian Conyers?

Teaching biology and chem. com, are work but, Pat Stanfield makes time to sponsor the sophomore class.

Taking over, Ronald Briggs, President; Christy Cash, Vice-President; Amy Jo Smith, Secretary; lead the sophomores.

Adding to homecoming court beauty, Christy Cash and Rebecca Narron represent the class of '91.

Nah! You aren't seeing doubles, sisters, Tara and Dana Zaffuto do look alike.

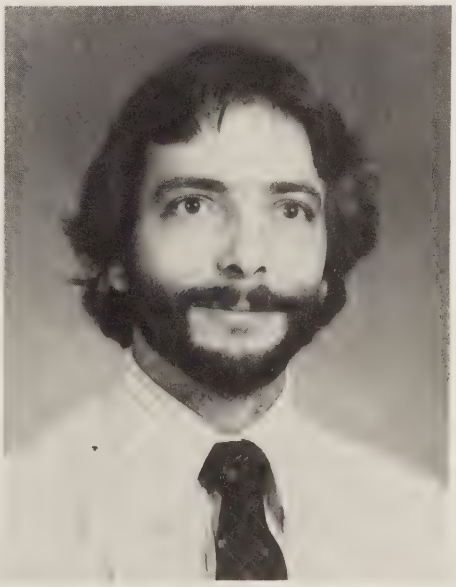
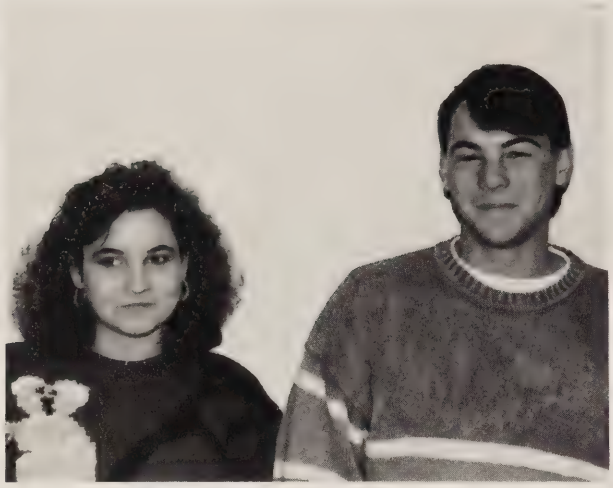
Leading the class, Angie Felty, Tara Zaffuto, Ginny Zapar, Spence Woodruff and Prax Kennedy.



Princesses Cheryl Mitchell, Michelle Poulston flash those pearly whites. As sponsor, Norwood Powell helps officers with jobs.

Ginny and Greg Zapar declined to comment on the effects of having a sibling at the same school.



"It's fine having my brother here," says Jennifer Almarode. "Josh doesn't have to ride the bus like other freshmen." Johnny Bodenhamer has no complaints about brother, Robby. "It's pretty cool."

Chatting with friends before an assembly is something everyone loves doing!

Getting back to work in Spanish class, Wendy Arendall and Aaron Graeser have a few remarks first. Before assemblies, perfect for the latest news.

"Hey, Mr. Jones, do these locker assignments make any sense?" Allison Carmac and Gilbert Jones wonder. Scott DeRyder has no complaints. Gym lockers, no problem . . .

Skyhawks Suffer Gridiron Headaches

As captain and one of the MVP's, Kevin Fagan does not rest during a game.

Coming back to the gridiron after a perfect season last year proved difficult for the Skyhawks who lost thirty two seniors to graduation. "No one realized the calibre of team we had," commented co-captain Bruce Reynolds, "we just had an incredible streak of bad luck." After opening the season with back to back losses, Skyhawks pulled together to post a win. Tough luck, mental errors, injuries combined with inexperience to leave the team with a dismal 4-6 record. In spite of the gloom of the season, captains, Bruce Reynolds, Kevin Fagan along with Dean Jones were awarded Most Valuable Player honors. In the impressive wins over Manchester, Clover Hill, Midlothian and Clover Hill, Adam Murphy, Terrell Oxendine, Franklin Moore, Chris Johnson, Mike Holloman, Fred Tarry, and Lewis Cassada received recognition for those outstanding plays that the entire team pulled together to execute. No complaints, no excuses, the team is making plans for next season.

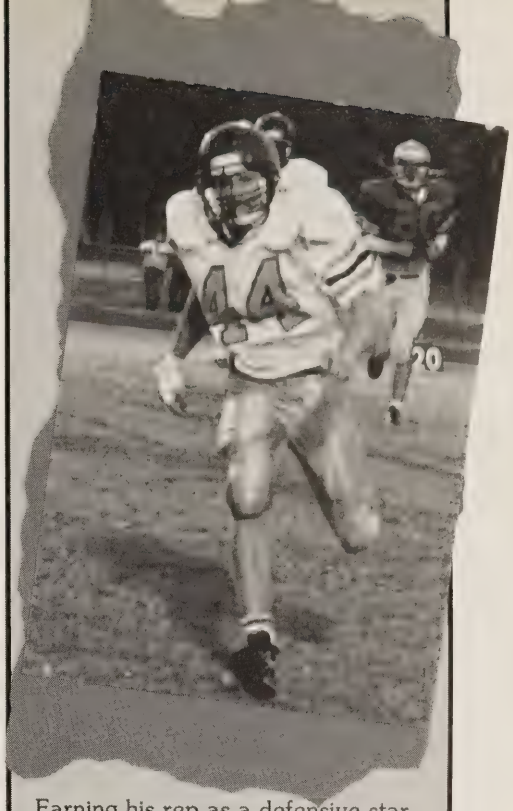
Play Improves During Season

Playing mostly eighth graders and freshmen, the Junior Varsity team opened the season with an impressive win against Hopewell. Confidence, however, was severely tested as the team dropped the next two games before scoring a win over Huguenot. The test was on again with two losses before the next victory over Manchester. With confidence restored, the entire team played an outstanding game in defeating a strong Monocan team 20-0. Defensive stars, Ryan Sharkey, Daryl Thompson and Tim Wade teamed with outstanding offensive players, Bryan Leslie, Jammie Brown, Kevin Brown, David King and David Mayfield to show the skill that the young team had worked the entire season to perfect.



Earning his rep as a defensive star, Darryl Thompson moves in to protect his quarterback.

Fast 'n Furious

Pounding the pavement, Jason Felice sets a course record at Midlothian.

The guys and girls of the Cross Country team began the season with an invitational race in early September. With the girls taking third and the guys finishing fifth, it looked like it would be a winning season. Although at the end of the season the guys' record was 4-3 and the girls' was 2-4, both teams qualified for the Regional meet and the girls finished a respective sixth in the region. District and Regional places were taken by Jason Felice, Christy Hammer, and Lisa Light, all of whom qualified for the AAA State Cross Country Championships.

The Indoor Track team looked promising also, with a great turnout; the Skyhawks were well represented in all the meets in which they competed. There were six school records, lots of personal bests, and five athletes qualified for the Indoor State meet. MVP Karen DiSavino claimed three school records herself in the long, triple, and high jumps. The mile relay team of Debbie Sharkey, Colleen McDowell, Angel Ingalls, and Karen DiSavino picked up the fourth record. Senior Jason Felice and Angel Ingalls captured the other two in the mile and the shot put, respectively. MVP Mike Wall represented Bird in the 55 high hurdles, triple jump, and pole vault. State meet qualifiers were Jason Felice, Karen DiSavino, Angel Ingalls, Christy Hammer, and Alicia Faggart.

Excellent Season Brings Recognition

The field hockey team had an excellent season, ending in a 2-1 overtime victory over Colonial Heights. Three players were especially successful this year. Tammy Palumbo was chosen for the Dominion District first team squad, along with Michelle Dynia, who was new to the team this past fall. Tonya Edmonds was made a member of first team All-Academic, topping off a great season. Team captains Shannon LaFountain, Tammy Palumbo, and Tonya Edmonds inspired the team effort which pulled the girls through a winning season. Several players also attended a field hockey camp in the summer to polish their skills and prepare for the season.

Golfers Line Up The Wins

Several outstanding players helped swing the golf team into the victory column during the season. Seasoned veterans, Scott Marks, Shannon Beasley and Mike Katcham were the senior standouts. Scott Marks was in the playoff for regionals while Shannon Beasley was named a member of the All Academic Dominion District Team. The season record of 5-12 featured an exciting one stroke victory against Meadowbrook. Making that victory even sweeter was the fact that it was on Meadowbrook's home course. Julian Porter, who has been the golf coach at Bird for eleven years, sharpened up his golfers skills to add wins over George Wythe, Hopewell, and Petersburg. The captain's choice tournament tops off the season for the golfers. This year the tournament was won by Jay Rosenstock, Paul Kang and Mike Katcham. Letters and awards were given to outstanding players during the annual banquet.

Forever hoping for that perfect shot, Scott Marks drives the ball while Coach Porter enjoys taking in the scenery in style.

Effort Marks Teams' Season

Basketball for the boys at Bird was characterizd by hard work and strong team effort. J.V. Coach Lewis named an eighth grader, Shawn McClain, as the team's most valuable player. Other standouts were Quincy Waller and David Stone. The win against Huguenot was chosen the best game this season. Coach Lewis felt this was the biggest win of his coaching career since the team won at an away game without three of the starters. The 61-59 final score attested to the tough team effort. Continuing his leadership of the Varsity team, Coach Tester had a group of talented players. Named most valuable were Mike Holloman and Josh Walton. Holloman posted a 58% free throw success rate and averaged 8 points per game. Walton had an average of 14.9 points per game along with a free throw success rate of 79%. Walton and Ryan Mann were team captains. Mann was rewarded for his efforts when he made the All-Tournament team. Varsity chose the 59-54 victory over Clover Hill as the most exciting game of the season in game one of the District Tournament.

Team Takes District Title

Despite the fact that the Lady Skyhawks had only four players returning, they captured the Dominion District Championship with a record of 20-4. The Skyhawks used quickness and intense defense to take their opponents out of the running one by one. Ayanna Lane had a triple award-winning year, making the 2nd Team District, All-Tournament, and Honorable Mention All-Metro teams. Another award-winning player was Heather Brand; she made the 1st Team District, 1st Team All-Region, 1st Team All-Metro, All-Academic Teams, and was the Most Valuable Player for the Dominion District. A senior on her way to college, Brand has played for the Varsity Lady Skyhawks all of her four years at Bird. Considered one of the area's best ballhandlers and shooters, she averaged 15.1 points and 5 assists a game this season, and was 38.3 percent from the 3-point line. Kept from scoring double digits only twice this season, Brand remarked, "A long as we win, I don't care if I score two or if I score twenty . . . We're like a family and we play as a team. I just want us to win." Senior Jeannie Ryals, junior, Danetta Henderson, teamed with sophomores Cam Phipps and Kelly Perkins for the other outstanding play of the season.

Team Improves, Wins!

JV Girls Basketball team was successful in the win loss area with a record of 13-4. Coach Fullerton also congratulates the girls in the areas of personal growth and improvement. Co-captains, Susan Smith and Melissa Crouch are credited for the leadership given to the team. Smith was this year's most valuable player, finishing the seaosn with 106 points and 80 rebounds. Shannon Whitman was recognized as Best Defense while Amy Kuszmaul received Most Improved honors. Coach Fullerton commented that the team was great to work with since each girl concentrated on improving the basic skills of her game. Skyhawks had little difficulty in selecting the most exciting game of the season. It had to be the come back win over Monocan in overtime. Final score 31-30 with each team member exhausted but very proud of the team effort. Games against George Wythe and Huguenot were forfeited since those teams were dissolved before season play. Other wins included Meadowbrook, Manchester, Colonial Heights, Godwin, Thomas Dale and Monocan.

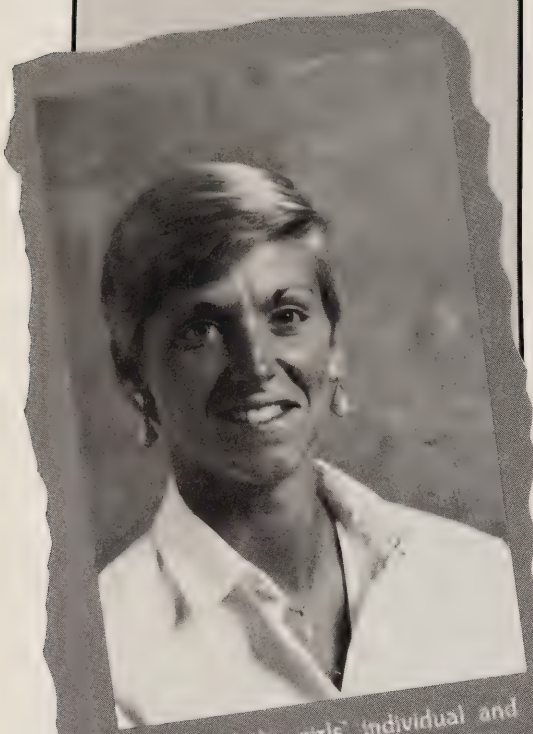
Gymnasts Demonstrate Winning Balance



Proud of the girls' individual and team attitude, Coach Sharon King.

The girls tumbled their way to a victory over Midlothian to start the season. First place winners were Julie Wilderman on beam; Jennifer Hopkins on floor; Elizabeth Traylor on bars; and Amy Nagle on vault. Amy, a former member of the Meadowbrook team, is a welcome addition to the Skyhawks' gymnastics team. With a win over Midlothian, the shortened season rolled with victories over Lee-Davis, Collegiate and Clover Hill. The girls who played at these meets were Julie Wilderman, Jennifer Hopkins, Elizabeth Traylor, Lori McCarthy and Amy Nagle. During Regional competition the team performed exceptionally with Julie Wilderman, Jennifer Hopkins, Elizabeth Traylor placing on bars, beam and in all around, respectively. These girls continued to vault their way to the State Meet with each member putting forth the total effort needed to make it a great season. Coach King credits the team's success to the hard work and positive attitude of the girls and the managers.

Wrestlers Pin Awards

Finishing the regular season with a 7-8 record, the wrestling team also represented the Skyhawks well in invitationals and the district meet. At the tournaments, the team captured second place at Hopewell and fourth place at Clover Hill. For districts, all twelve varsity wrestlers placed in the top four to send the tem to Regionals where they placed a respectable eleventh place. Regional placers and State qualifiers were earned by Chris Wiggins (103) and MVP senior Donald Williams (119) who also received the Jeff Garst Memorial Most Take Down Award. Other prominent team members were Most Improved, Pete Fens (160), Rob Carter (152), Brian Leslie (140), F. J. Jones (130) who received the Jeff Garst Comeback Award. Mark Waitkus (185) and team Captains, Bruce Goodman (112) and Brian Chamberlain were other standouts on the team according to coaches Hettrick and Hammer.

Team Keeps Kickin'

Say "soccer" and the team thinks — sixty minutes of tough physical action coupled with serious concentration. Posting a disappointing 2-12-1 record, one would think that the 8-1 victory over Huguenot would be the season highlight. Not true. Team members and coach chose the Thomas Dale game as the most positive team effort. On top 2-0 for most of the contest with all players moving off the ball, passing well, creating, taking and making good shots, Skyhawks lost it mentally and allowed Dale to tie the score to force the overtime. Still down, Skyhawks dropped the game 3-2 but were encouraged by the sharpness of fifty-five of those minutes. Captains Darin Fox, Ward Thomas, Dwayne Weedon along with Jerry Carter, Chris Beacham and Jeff Snider were the season standouts. Snider took MVP honors and was named to the first team All Regional.

Skyhawk Batmen Third in District

Success is always welcome especially when it is unexpected. With only three returning varsity players, the team was not expected to have a good season. "We proved them wrong to make it to the play-offs," said Alan Pfeffer. The 10-6 season record did, indeed, prove them wrong. In the win column, the most exciting game was probably the 10-0 win over Matoaca. This outstanding team effort featured Skyhawks hot at batting while Johnny Bodenhamer held Matoaca players to a perfect no hits day. His no-hitter is in the record book. More success for the season can be seen in the first time ever two wins over rival, Midlothian. Skyhawks worked hard and kept the momentum alive with those wins to work toward yet another goal, to place in district. Success again with a third place finish for the season. Named to the All District Team were Johnny Bodenhamer and Chris Davis with Jerry Davis, Ryan Mann and Jeff LaMack receiving honorable mention as outstanding players. Left: Johnny Bodenhamer

Game Situations Teach J.V.

Young, , yes, junior varsity teams usually feature younger players and Skyhawks were no exception. With few sophomores to serve as leaders, captains, Billy Poh and Matt LaMack took the leadership role seriously. The outstanding win came against Matoaca 9-1 behind the strong pitching effort of Matt LaMack. Inexperience from insufficient play time took its toll for the team who managed to post a 3-12 season record.

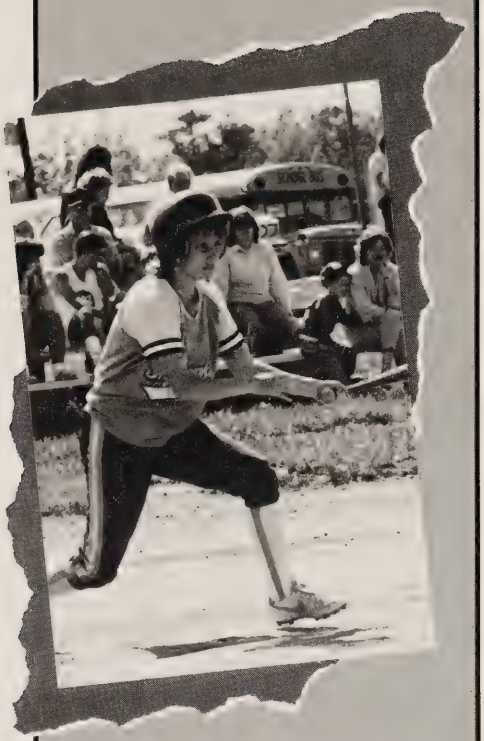
Ladies Learn To Win



Waiting for the pitch, tri-captain, Aimee Honeycutt watches for the coach's call. Right

"On the Skyhawks' sideline," read the media account, "Rob Thompson wore the satisfied expression of a coach whose team is playing to its potential." Jeff White of the Chesterfield Plus wrote of the lady Skyhawks' most outstanding contest of the season against Monacan. Starting three freshmen, two sophomores, two juniors and two seniors in the 5-0 win as well as through most of the season, the young squad managed to be the district leader through the first half of the season.

The Monacan game featured hitting by Henshaw, Honeycutt, Sutton and Maxwell. Jenny Stevens iced the game by pitching a no-hitter for the record books. Another exciting win was the 8-7 victory against Clover Hill. Down 0-5, the game could have been disastrous but the girls had other ideas and clawed their way back into the game. Trailing 7-6 in the last inning, Tonya Setzer hit a line drive to score two runs.

Rain Shortens Season Doesn't Dampen Spirits

With two eighth grade starters, the junior varsity team began the season with a strong 18-6 win over Thomas Dale behind the pitching of Brandi Flanagan who struck out five while giving up only three walks. Playing a rain-shortened season, the team finished 2-4 District and 3-6 overall. Dana Gammon, shortstop, turned in two double plays in the game twice during the season to earn MVP honors. Captains, Amy Shireman and Christy Cash helped with the leadership and positive attitude of the team.

Teams Run For It

Finishing the season with a 6-2-1 record, the boys' team standouts were Spencer McElwee and Kevin Fagan. Spencer placed second in Districts in the 3200m run with a 9:54. Kevin placed in Districts and Regionals with a personal best 51' 2" in the shot and 141' 2" in the discus. Other District placers were: Terrell Oxendine, Franklin Moore and Land Matthews. The girls ended the season with a 6-3 record with Karen DiSavino and Cam Phipps named team standouts. Karen captured five individual places in the District meet and ran on the 1600m relay team along with Debbie Sharkey, Ayanna Lane and Tracey Lucas who placed second in the Districts and sixth in Regionals. Cam Phipps, school record holder in the shot, placed second at Districts. L. C. B. Where Spirit Lives!

The Lloyd C. Bird Cheerleaders started off the year by attending a summer camp at Randolph Macon College, which was sponsored by ECA. Throughout the year, both squads cheered for numerous athletes in a variety of sports, and kept the school spirit high. In January, the Varsity cheering squad sponsored and attended a competition at L.C. Bird High School. The squad received first place, for which they were awarded a trophy. To end the year in March, JV and Varsity combined members and participated in the Eastern Grand Finals in Williamsburg. This competition was also sponsored by ECA, and they competed in two cheering competitions and one dance competition as well. The cheering squads were kept very busy this year competing and boosting our spirits sky high here at Bird.

Giving all her "umph", Karen Lee powers a back hand.

Using up all his energy, Chad Clark tries a saver.

Stepping into a sweeping forehand, Eric Mayes sends one down the middle.

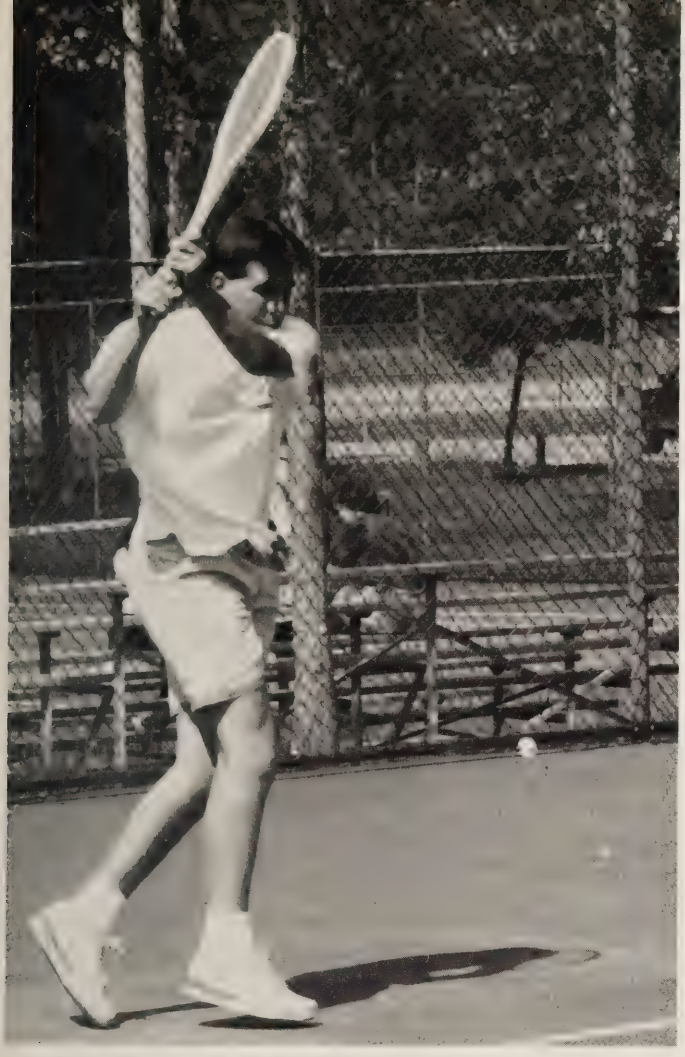
Keeping her concentration, Jennifer Dore leans into the ball.

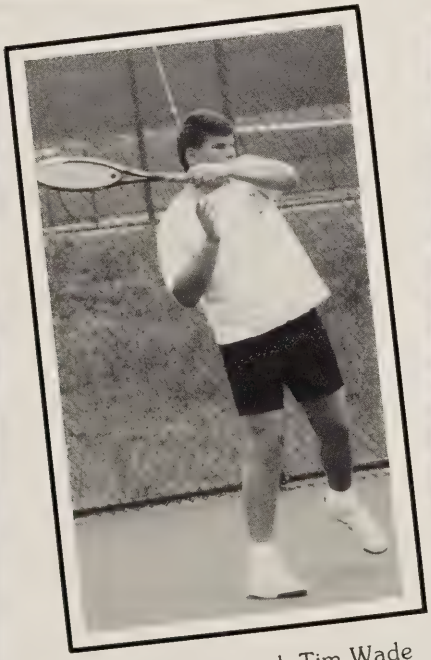


Boys, Girls Teams Net Difficult Season

In the fall, the girls tennis team finished the season with a 8-8 record against strong competition. Led by Seniors Kim Smith voted MVP; Lynne Peto as Most Improved Player, and Trisha Thomas, the team had few seasoned players. Returning starters are Heidi Virag, Jennifer Dore and Karen Lee who earned court savy during the season for next year's team.

In Spring, the boys team had only three Senior members, Tom Rider, Rob Moore and Chad Clarke which led to problems in leadership. Captains Jay Rosenstock, sophomore; and junior, Eric Mayes took charge. Young teams have difficulty against tennis powerhouses through the county. Coach Langford hopes the members will return next year more experienced and they will be ready to win. Nailing the shot, Chris Wade, left.

Eyeing the ball, Kim Smith slices the ball to her opponent.



Staying in control, Tim Wade follows through after a shot.

Oh, brother, yes brother, say Kameron and Chad Mickelson.

Make mine mime says Jennifer Galbavy of her talent entry this contest.

Where's Plaza Suite?

Lights dim, spot lights focus on Suite 719 of the Plaza Hotel. The public was invited to view three vignettes which dealth with relationships. All three took place in the Plaza Suite. In Act I, Jennifer Galbavy and David Bennett came to the hotel to celebrate their anniversary. Personal problems and business concerns had strained the marriage. The next couple, Andy Toney and Melanie Minor were high school sweethearts who met for the first time in years. The flame of love was rekindled. In the final act, Charis and Chris Pearce play parents preparing daughter, Shannon McFarland, for her wedding. Fiancee, Stuart Ranson, along with the parents, has a hard time convincing Shannon that this marriage is really what she wants. Plaza Suite was a poignant, slice-of-life drama that was sometimes sad, sometimes funny, but always entertaining.

Norma (Charis Graeser) begs daughter, Mimsey to come out of the bathroom.

Mimsey's fiancee, Stuart Ranson tries his charms.

Front: Jennifer Galbavy, Melanie Minor, Charis Graeser. Back: Tracey Boutelle, Aaron Graeser, Mark Lewis, David Bennett, Andy Toney, Chris Pearce, Stuart Ranson and Shannon McFarland.

Roy (Chris Pearce) asks wife Norma about daughter Mimsey's absence from her own wedding.

Waiter, Mark Lewis, asks Karen (Jennifer Galbavy) about her champagne order.

Looking over his work, Sam (David Bennett) talks to Jean (Tracey Boutelle).

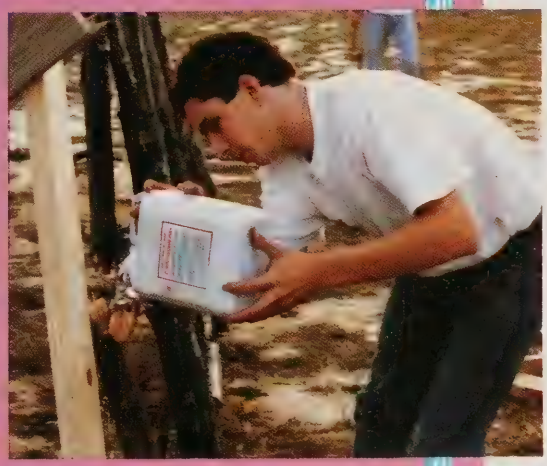
What's Burnin'?

Full moon in position, proper chill was in the air for pep club's bonfire October 6. Club members donated wood, made wooden letters to spell out FALCONS which were to be burned in preview for what Bird would do to Huguenot on the field. Cheerleaders led the crowd in rowdy fun, band members added the rhythm and volume and the spirit chain links fueled the fire. Was it the crackling fire or the spirited dancing of rapsody in blue that took the chill off the perfect night? Football players made a surprise appearance after the evening practice to liven up the festivities even more. Students enjoyed the return of the bonfire and thank Lu Henderson's club for making the effort to heat up the spirit.

Watch out for those flames, guys.

After adding to the spirit, Tracy Higgerson and Marcy Miller share a laugh with Skyhawk.



At it again, those guys are burning the opposition.

Someone has to get the fire ready and David Clements takes on the behind-the-scenes jobs.

Sponsor of the pep club, Lu Henderson and Jeff Bowman get it ready.

Peek-a-boo! Jennifer Hairfield tries to hide from the camera behind John Wellons.

Where Do We Rock?

Castles, knights in armour, magic and mystery decorated homecoming '88 since Medieval Magic was the theme. Entering the school for the dance, students crossed over a drawbridge to listen to the tunes of "Street Life". Graduates return, faculty and staff members mingle with current Skyhawks and the commons rocks for the night. Slow dancing, fast dancing "da butt", "the wop", "the icky shuffle", and "slam dancin'" get lots of practice. Friends, special couples and just acquaintances dress up for the evening of medieval magic.

Caught in a private moment, Adrienne Moore and Paul Quinney enjoy the dance.

On their way to the refreshment table, Toni Thomason, Neil Richardson, Christie Cooper, and Todd Woodfin stop for a picture.

Cheek to cheek, Jeff Bowman and Julie Keever prove that close dancing is in style.

Let's dip! The camera catches Mark Kolmorgan and date dancing.

Who Reigns?

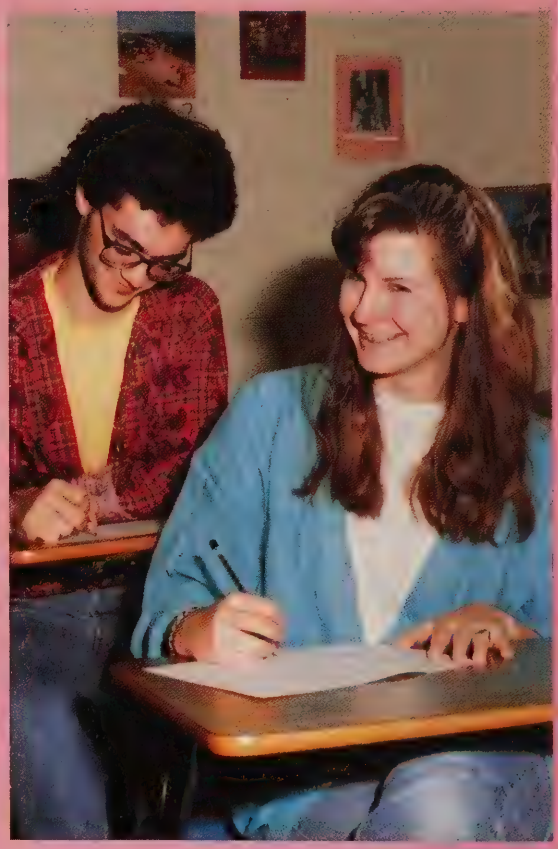
Three sharp blasts of the whistle signals time to line up for the parade. Floats from clubs and classes get the final touches from members who hope the judges will find their entry tops. Princesses adjust the sashes and cars for the ride around the track for a possible queen's crown. Excited Skyhawks decked out in lucky blue and white get ready to meet the Huguenot Falcons. Band members with tuned instruments in hand line up. Enthusiastic fans crowd into the stadium as homecoming '88 opens. Seniors won for the class division, with juniors coming in second. In the club division, drama copped first with SADD in the second place. During the half-time show, Lisa Johnson was crowned queen by her sister, Susan, last year's winner.

Princesses, Rachel Durham, Cindy Mays and Meghan Prince flank Lisa Johnson, homecoming court 1988.

Oops! Caught in the act of enjoying school, Shawn Crews and Jayce Arnold don't mind.

Whoops, I hurt my finger, Lisa Kliewer seems to be saying.

"Do you need this key?" Toni Thomason asks.



"Latin isn't Greek to me", Debbie Sharkey tells Mike P'Pool.

What a Feelin'

What a joy it is to see that white, wet, snow falling. Hopes rise that maybe an early dismissal is at hand. Few of us remember the joy we felt at seeing the snow for the very first time. English as a second language (ESL) student, Jose Alvarado lifts up his arms to catch a few flakes. El Salvador does not have snow. Jerry McLaughlin was ready with the camera to catch his reaction. School gives students the time to cement friendships which, if nurtured, will last their lifetimes. The mixture of social and academic makes the days more enjoyable.

Bonfires are more fun than classes say Rachel Durham, Nikki Bartlett and Christine Zimmerman.

How can anything be that funny? Angela Allen is cracking up. Calm down, class is not supposed to be fun.

Eyeing piping hot pizza, Eric Rilee readies himself for taste bud delight.

French fries and pizza for me, too, munches Calvin Cosio.

O.K., I will eat those veggies, but I don't like them. Art LaVance.

Well, it's a hamburger, fries, juice and milk for David Maxwell but turkey with all the trimmings is Chris Bernier's choice.

What's For Lunch?

Pizza with its hot cheese dripping down the sides and onto your hands, french fries loaded with salt and ketchup to be washed down with milk or juice topped the list of favorite lunchtime cuisine. For the waistline conscious, salads, vegetables or yogurt were made available. For the first time, breakfast was served at Bird to make sure students and staff begin the day with a good meal. Watching the calories for teenagers is not much of a worry. But, remember, you are what you eat.

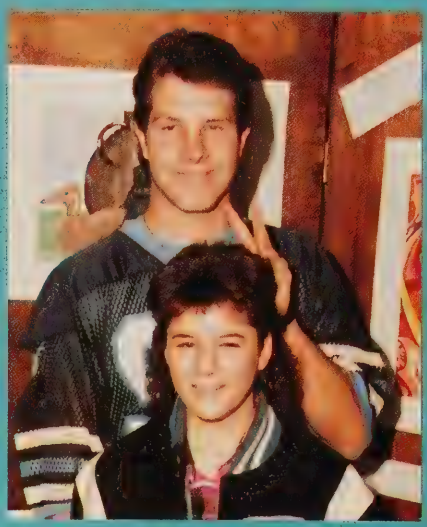
Yes, it's time for yummy dessert for Ronny Cready.

Love me, love my fries, these are all gone says Paul Ireland.

Looking like a perfect double date, Tom Lawrence, Shelly Glassco and Tony Mullins with Melissa Ellis.

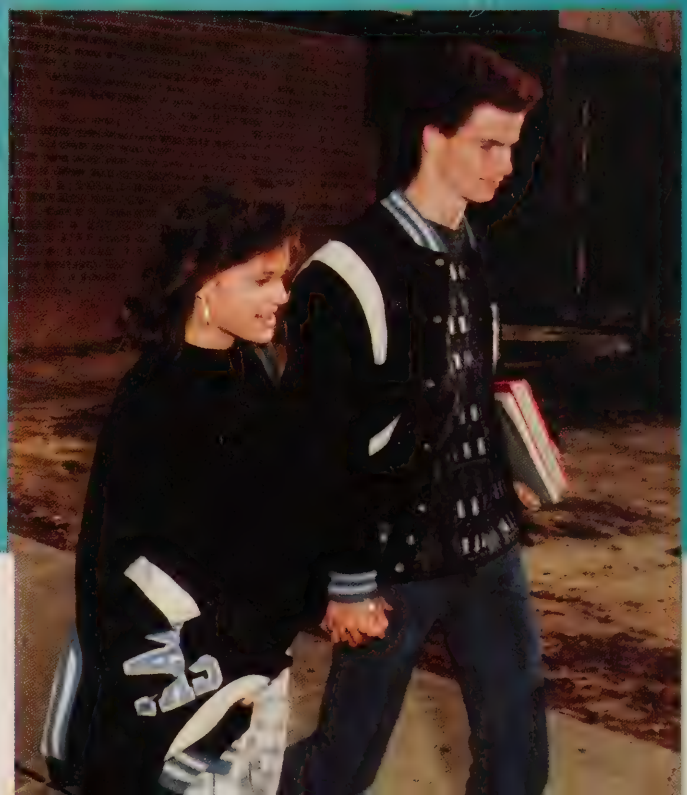
Was it love at first sight? Ask Tonya Edmonds and Al Slade.

Special friends, Yvonne Bissett and Jason Felice.



Why is Steve Skelton giving Heidi Spence bunny ears? Nice to give presents, right?

Hand in hand, Jennifer Hairfield and John Wellons head for home.



Hangin' loose, Jeff Tipton trusts Kendall Bess and Jimmy Peterson for support. Friendship.

Who's Special?

Precious and few are the minutes friends and more than friends have to share between classes, during lunch, or before and after school. Plans must be made for those Friday nights, friends crowd together to admire rings and give the traditional turn, special friends just enjoy walking to class hand in hand. Decorum is called for as students are reminded that the halls are not "Bird Airport" and that you will, indeed, see that person in less than an hour. Certainly, the relationship can weather such a lengthy separation. The ups and downs of romance and friendships are a large part of growing up. Those friends will remain as special as is this time they share.

Close-up for those bright smiles of Stuart Ranson and Angel Ingalls.

How do YOU spend your free time?

Even though it feels like forever sometimes, the six hours we spend at school are only a small part of our time. Everyone has different ways they spend the rest of their time. Some people use that time to make money at a part-time job. Many others find more fun ways to spend it. The surfers at Bird try to get down to the waves as much as possible. While they have to head to the beach to have their fun, most skaters look for the nearest wall, sidewalk, or just about anything else that doesn't move! Performing difficult moves is a big part of skating, like Jon Johnston's handstand atop his board. As with the skaters, freestylers can go just about anywhere to have fun, as long as they have space. David Dunn shows his skill on a bike by balancing on the handlebars. Between school and fun, it's hard to keep it all straight, but the students here at Bird seem to have perfected that balance — in more ways than one! Above: Showing off a few of their boards, a group of surfers share the spotlight with Jennifer Hall.

Senior Kameron Mickelson spends some of his free time working at Cinnabon.

A job at Chesterfield Towne Centre Food Court keeps Jeff DeRyder busy.

Is this how you keep track of your free time, Chris Simms?

Skaters McElwee, Johnston, Marino, Phelps says no, Zapar and FaJohn.

Who'll Win?

As the contestants anxiously waited for the Miss L.C. Bird Pageant to begin, they sat back and enjoyed a potpourri of talent. The Talent Show, hosted by Melanie Minor and Doug Maxwell, was a smash, with the Cover Girls dancing their way to first place. The dancers, Candice Boyette, Robin Rich, Laura Rich, and Jenny Bryan dazzled the judges with their dynamic routine. Scott Campbell won the hearts of the audience, quacking "My Prerogative." Third place was awarded to Carolyn Friend, singing "Two Occasions." After the curtains closed on Talent Show '89, Fred Tarry and Stacey Tatro introduced the contestants for the Miss L.C. Bird Pageant. The long awaited announcement was made after the last girl crossed the stage. Jennifer Dyson, representing Jr. NAHS, was awarded first runner-up. Taking the crown was Tracey Totty, who represented SADD and became Miss L.C. Bird '89.

Singing "My Prerogative," Scott Campbell quacked his way to fame with a second place finish in the Talent Show.

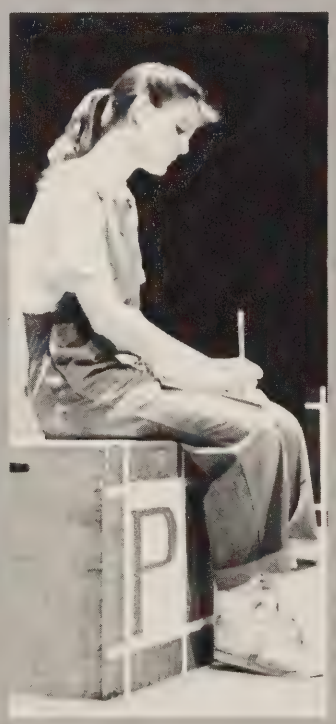
Masters of Ceremony, Fred Tarry and Stacy Tatro introduce the contestants for the pageant.

Contestants Tracey Cesario, Rachel Durham, Julie Fields, and Jennifer Hall anticipate that walk down the aisle and onto the stage. Yes, nervous; No, no one knows.

"Good Man" Dedicated To A "Good Friend"

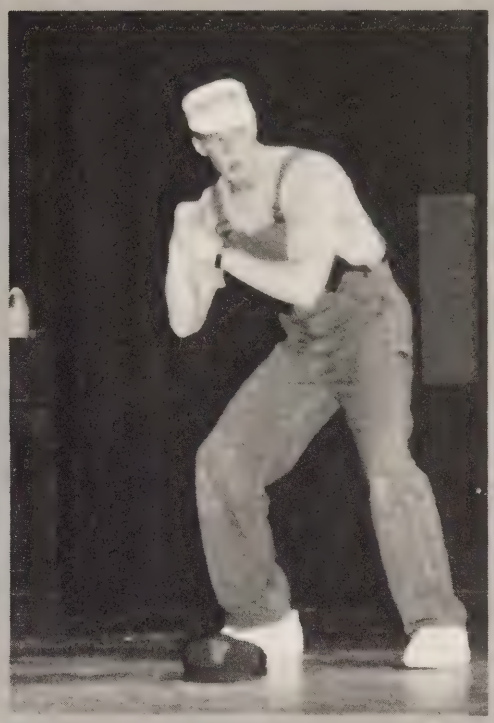
It was a typical day for the Peanuts gang. Charlie Brown attempted to fly a kite and to play baseball; he failed at both. Lucy teased her baby brother, Linus and nagged Schroeder over marriage. Schroeder played his piano. Linus clung to his "one and only" blanket. And, Snoopy danced, pranced, barked and few. It was just a typical day for the Peanuts gang. On May 5, You're a Good Man Charlie Brown opened with Chad Neale in the lead as Charlie. He brought the right lack of confidence to the role. Emily Marks as Lucy nagged, crabbed and teased. Clinging to his blanket, Stuart Ranson was Linus. Martin Vaughan, Schroeder, portrayed the Beethoven-loving pianist. Kelly Starnes was the perfect Peppermint Patty. Doug Maxwell woofed it up as Snoopy. The play was dedicated to Jay Mallory, 1987 graduate who died this year in a boating accident. Jay was a talented actor who brought happiness and laughter to many. You're A Good Man Charlie Brown was a fitting tribute to a special friend. A scholarship has been established in his name.



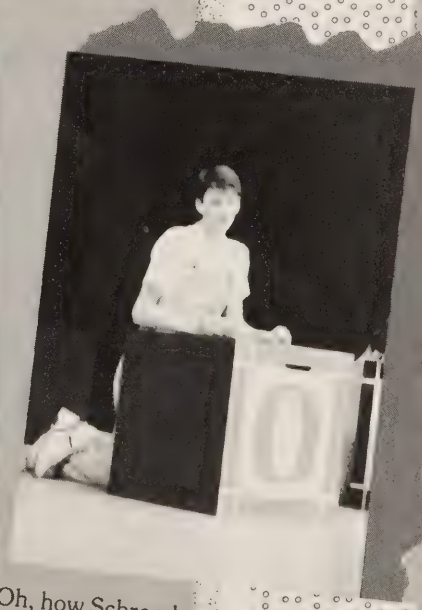
Cast members finish the opening song introducing Charlie Brown as a good man. Right: In need of advice, Peppermint Patty writes, "Dear Ann Flanders . . . ". Far Right: Flying high, Snoopy shoots down the Red Barron, yet again.

Broadway watch out! Doug Maxwell, Stuart Ranson, Kelly Starnes, Emily Marks, Chad Neale, and Martin Vaughan star in the spring production.

Despite his concentration, Charlie Brown strikes out again.



In sickness and in health . . . Lucy contemplates marriage, while Schroeder tickles the ivories. Nothing changes.



Oh, how Schroeder dreads his book report.

Prom 1989
Is Midnight Blue

Limousines lined the busy city street. Students dressed to the nines arrived at the Richmond Center on May 12 prepared for Midnight Blue, L. C. Bird's '89 Prom. Couples stepped onto the escalator and stared, mouths agape. Blue and white balloons decorated the outstanding modern building. Tables set with decorative scrolls proved there would be no overcrowding tonight. Couples danced to the beat of Casper until 10:30 when Seniors lined up to be announced. Applause roared as Mike Lewis and Jenny Bryan were crowned King and Queen. As the midnight hour approached, couples said goodbye and headed out to enjoy breakfast with family and friends.

Blue Takes 6-0 Win

Twice rain delayed, as soon as the sun appeared, the traditional powder puff contest went to the gridiron. Format changes pitted the Blue freshman — senior team against the White sophomore — junior squad. Players took to the field with no warm up to entertain and to impress the crowd with outstanding plays. Two touchdowns were called back by officials Andrew Lewis, Brian Blecke, and Rob Thompson before Big Blue put up 6 points for the 6-0 win. Heather Brand and Christine Zimmerman were outstanding for the Blue while Diana Kennedy and Kelly Tanner were active for the White.

Seniors Pull Weight Others Fall . . .

Sunlight beat down and heat rose from the pavement as swarms of students made their way to the stadium for the annual tug o-war. Seniors whooped and hollered anticipating yet another upperclassmen victory. While members of the history club scurried around, Skyhawks readied themselves for the tenth Tug-o-war. First round action pitted Seniors against Sophomores. In less than a minute, Sophomores met the soft wet ground in good humor. Mini Freshmen shocked everyone by giving the Juniors a free ride across the field. No contest. Anticipation heightened, would the Freshmen topple the Seniors? With a quick show of strength, Seniors overwhelmed the Freshmen to take the win.

Seniors like the feeling of victory.

Dress up days, dress up days, Stacey Watkins takes advantage of pajama day sponsored by SCA. Spirit chain links proved Seniors had the most as Kevin Speeks demonstrates at right.

Worth The Effort

Sweat rolled down my arm and dripped off my fingers. My stomach twisted and turned. I boldly chartered unconquered logarithmic equations, but my heart beat double-time during the induction ceremony. I was being recognized as an outstanding student, a member of one of Bird's academic honor clubs. All of my hard work had really paid off.

Members of these clubs were all students who have shown strength in areas of leadership, service, scholarship and character. Induction into these societies is a tribute to outstanding achievements. Special talents are recognized by the art society. Battle of the Brains team members, Kevin Fagan, Kelly McMillin, Tom Doran, David Doland, Mike Foster and John Judge demonstrated academic acumen and physical dexterity by quickly responding in competition with other local teams. These "Bird Brains" ended a successful season in the top ten. Scholarships are offered by these clubs who earn money selling candy or making creative art works for meager budgets.

Psst! Honor Society meeting today after school. Debbie Sharkey asks Chris Farmer if he plans to attend.

Dance, Eat, Enjoy Language Study!

I am so embarrassed. I sure hope no one has a camera. I would die if I got in the yearbook for doing a folk dance. On the count of three? I'm no ballerina, guys. Hey, wait. Whoa, I did that step. I'm getting pretty good at this dance. I can barely keep a grip on this guy next to me; my hands are sweating like a pig. Never thought about an anti-perspirant for the hands. I bet I look like a fool, goose-stepping my way through this dance. What? The dance is over? That's all? Yoo-hoo! Can we do it again? Jerry and Marcia Slosser led those steps at the annual foreign language banquet in November. Students enjoyed the opportunity to taste the cuisine and practice the cultural dances of other countries. Outstanding language students were recognized by induction to the honor society.

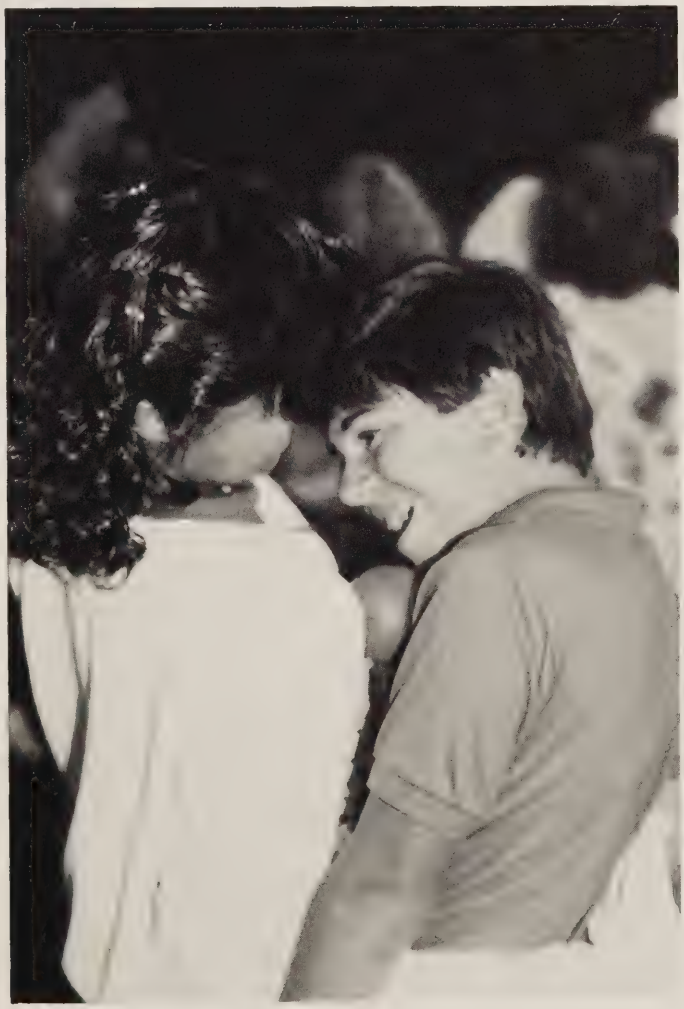
Chant — TOGA

Toga! Toga! Toga! This chant no doubt conjures up images of the Latin Club. But, this club does much more than wear bedsheets and olive branches. Latin Club got off to an exciting start even before the school year commenced with attendance at the State Latin Convention. L.C. Bird brought home many awards, and Richard Traylor was elected state Treasurer. As the school year progressed, club officers planned candy sales to support the club and to help cover convention expenses. The club also visited Philadelphia where members viewed the Liberty Bell, Independence Hall, and various museums. Though Latin Club enjoyed many different activities, all of these activities promoted the study of language.



Trying their luck, Seon Yi and Chris Corde pass the orange during induction ceremonies. Such spirited fun sets these Latin scholars apart.

Learning The Lingo

English as a Second Language or ESL prepares students who have just arrived in the country for regular stateside classes. The program consists of students from grades 6-12. The students are from sixteen to eighteen different nationalities, and the length of time each student attends this class varies. Some attend for five years while some join regular classes after two or three semesters of special help. Many of the students attend regular classes like algebra, geometry, history, and biology during the day. Many attend tech classes. The curriculum for ESL is language and culture to prepare the students for life in the U.S.

The most striking problem facing the ESL program is that each student has a different attitude toward education. In some cultures it is considered rude to ask questions in class. According to the teachers, it is often difficult teaching students of various cultures and customs, but it is always rewarding. Many modern language students became involved as pen pals with the ESL students which helped all who participated learn more about each other.

Meeting The Needs

E! Ouch! I think I broke my thumb. Since when did they start making two ton hammers? This float is taking up all of my free time. All we're going to do is drive it around the track one time or maybe twice. What's the use? Well, if one person gets the message, I guess a mangled thumb will be worth it. I just hope the school gets the message: Drinking and Driving have never mixed. SADD members took second place in the club division.

Service clubs, Bird Aid, Parking Crew, SADD and Key Club work throughout the year to make all the activities from football in the fall through graduation in the spring run more smoothly. In the case of a fire, call Bird Aid for help in getting the necessities supplied. The club collects and distributes food for needy families in the community. SADD members encourage people to forget about drinking especially when driving. Key Club members boast a record breaking year collecting blood for Bird alumni, Ronald Parker who was hospitalized after a motorcycle accident. The family atmosphere and caring at Bird came through again.

Students taking part in the Challenge Discovery Ropes Course at left, Steve Hammer, Sponsor; Robert Teeslink, Dale Webber, Jerri Douglas, Sponsor; Johnny Thigpen, Andy Elder and Eric Seifer spend the day learning about trust and cooperation. This program is open to all students through Project Prevention.

SADD members Mike Crouch, Ashley Anderson and Wendy Dacey caught discussing the float for homecoming.

Skyhawks Fire Up!

Flames leaped into the air and illuminated the back wall of the school. Throngs of students cheered and chanted, following the lead of the cheerleaders. Earlier in the day, members of the Pep Club had fervidly gathered wood in preparation for Bird's first bonfire in seven years. Excitement and anticipation grew to an audible roar. As girls and guys threw boxes of spirit links to fan the flames, the cheerleaders worked the crowd to near-frenzy pitch as the football team arrived. "L.C. Bird is what?" "Red Hot!"

DECA managed to get the crowd's attention but not outside with a bonfire. Their excitement was in the commons with fashion news. Hot or not? Find out whether you are or are not a fashion trendsetter with the fall and spring shows.

FHA heated up the kitchen during the year. Members decorated and prepared food for receptions and banquets. FHA members readied themselves for life after high school and kept the "home fires" burning.

FBLA joined tomorrow's business leaders. Club members obtained business experience by selling carnations on Valentine's Day. FBLA'ers prepared to beat the heat of the business world.

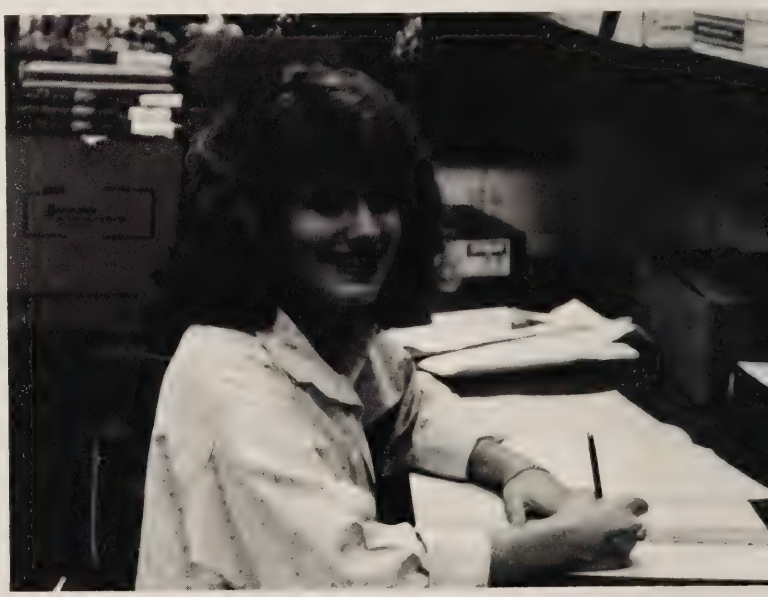
Talon Wraps '89 A Current Event

Judi Bitner ran through the hall, a huge envelope flapping in her arms. No, she wasn't trying out for the track team, she was making a deadline. When working with the yearbook, deadlines come fast and furious, and turning pages in late can add up to beaucoup bucks. The Talon staff created a totally new look this year using overlapping layers and bars to accent pages in the book. Active staff members included Kristi Finefield, Angela Ray, Scott Schucht, and of course, Judi Bitner. In addition to the "after school" staff, the Journalism II class helped with the 1989 TALON. As in the past, the main goal when designing pages is to make sure everyone who goes to Bird has at least one picture in the yearbook.

After seeing all those pictures, Kristi takes time to make a furry friend.



Staff members hang around just for the picture then back to work.

Thanks to Jerry McLaughlin, more students were in TAL-ON '89.

Music Groups
Drum Up Recognition

Mid-August, L.C. Bird High School, eighty students gathered on the parking lot, gathered for one common goal: the beginning of the 1988-89 Marching Skyhawk season. This was to be a year of high notes for the marching band. The Marching Skyhawks traveled to James Madison University for the Parade of Champions and marched in Richmond's Christmas Parade. Then, in December, the band journeyed to Tampa, Florida to participate in the Hall of Fame halftime show.

Back in Chesterfield, Symphonic Band, Concert Band and Orchestra busily prepared for the fall and spring concerts. The music department also took an active part in graduation. Jazz Ensemble delighted audiences at elementary schools around the county and provided the music for the faculty show, Capone. Henry Myers enjoyed his part of the show at right.

Club Studies Makes History

"Attention, attention everybody! Now, write this down." I am Julian Porter and I'm the sponsor for the History Club, Gamma Delta Sigma. The History Club had an awesome year. The lectures by Aubrey Lindsey and hypnotism specialist, Dr. Charles Flynn were outstanding and very well attended. The club also visited the Museum of the Confederacy and the Confederate White House. "I hope a few of you get this." From the conflict between the states, members jumped to the struggle between the classes in the annual Tug-O-War competition. A reunion was held on April 29 for all former history club members. Gamma Delta Sigma has been busy creating a bit of history of its own. Amy Luckeydoo was chosen as outstanding member for the year.

Making Homecoming Magically Medieval

Wow! Everyone looks great! The band really sounds great and everybody is having a blast. You'd think we would be mad about losing the game, but everyone was too busy to worry. Gee, it was cold at the game, but Rhapsody heated things up with a perfect dance routine. Those girls have been hard at work since this summer when they attended camp. Their hard work and dedication paid off. Cool! I get to stop taking money and go inside. Wow! This place looks great. Getting a picture taken in the castle designed by Lynne Peto of the yearbook staff. SCA did a great job decorating, but they always do. They keep everything running smoothly throughout the year. SCA sponsored the Miss L.C. Bird Pageant. This is a great dance. What a Homecoming!

Wait, You're Not Alone

The girl sat balled up in a corner, and tears rolled down her cheeks. "Why do I always fight with my parents?" she wondered, "I don't have anyone I can talk to. I feel so alone." She pulled a tissue out of her purse and wiped her eyes. "Well, maybe I could talk to a Peer Advisor. I know they would be willing to help me out, and they wouldn't broadcast my problems to the school." The girl rose and began to write a note. "Dear Peer Advisors . . .

SONIA GRAY

Pain . . . it shocks my very soul
The piercing pain of loss
Someone we loved
Someone that's there no more
What could ever replace that loss
No one can fill her empty seat again
Sitting alone in the back
The desk is empty
That beautiful presence is absent
Forever in her quiet grave
Many a funeral will be had
Each day as that desk lies empty
Mourning for the one we loved
Now left this world forever
Many tears will still be shed
Before death can be put aside
And good memories of life replace it
The inevitable come to a sudden
end . . .
The brevity of life expressed . . .
So harsh the approach that death
must take
So immediate the result
In awe we stand and humbly accept
The fate which befell our loved one
We cannot fathom the reason why
A beautiful life is stolen
Does pain not ever exist
For the evil of the world?
Oh, such is the pain we know
As the survivors left behind
Living our daily life
Bearing the burden
Of a loved one's death
Oh, the emptiness inside our hearts
We feel as we say goodbye
Goodbye to our beautiful loved one
We'll meet again someday.
